GUT STRINGS

Twisted, polished and finished by hand — for the double bass, the tennis court, and the concert hall.

FROM THE WORKSHOP

Each string begins as natural gut — selected, twisted and dried under tension, a method essentially unchanged in seventy years.

THE CRAFT

Made by hand, tuned by tradition

FOR MORE THAN FIFTY YEARS, Emerson Corporation has made natural gut strings the slow way. Founded in the 1950s and still family-run today, our workshop twists, rests, polishes and gauges every string by hand — the same craft our founder built, now carried forward into its third generation.

Natural gut sings in a way synthetics cannot. Bassists and early-music performers choose it for its warm, breathing tone; tennis players for its liveliness and feel. Every set leaving our workshop is measured to gauge, finished to order, and packed for the journey — from our benches in India to stages and courts around the world.

AUTHENTIC MATERIAL

True natural gut — never blended, never imitation.

HAND GAUGED

Each diameter checked by hand, string by string.

MADE TO ORDER

Custom lengths, gauges and dyes on request.
